Lawnporn Autumn Guide

Autumn, the start of the cooler season. The daylight is getting shorter and although the early autumn temps can be quite hot, it will get cooler soon. The growth will slow up.

What Autumn means for warm-season lawns (couch, kikuyu, buffalo and zoysia) is the race is on to get the best condition lawn before dormancy.

Our program concentrates on condition first, with products like Launch+ and Four Seasons and colour second, with Charger and Green Light. Soil condition is enhanced by Moist and Hero and we also recommend use of pre-emergent herbicide (Freehand or Spartan) for preventative weed control if you are not overseeding with cool season grass seed.

March is when you make the most benefit of the available growth. It is a time when you can start letting the lawn go up in height of cut for better photosynthesis (from the less sunlight as the days shorten). Simply a notch or 2 up can really make a lovely difference.

Mowing frequency can be quite busy at the start of March but it will decrease soon. A 3-time a week mow for the summer lawn will soon turn into a 2 times a week mow.

Lawnporn Autumn Guide

Mowing frequency will decrease more in April and May as the season gets cooler.

Certainly any mowing you do cannot be an aggressive cut now, it won't self repair as fast.

If you have soil levelling issues you'll have to wait till Spring, sorry..

Watering needs will decrease. Aim toward watering once deeply a week - 10 days to promote a deep root system. Adjust for rain.

Frosty mornings, a quick 5 min water to melt the ice will help the lawn look better.

Fertilising throughout the Autumn is important. It will help your lawn look good and help it survive winter better. The real benefit to this program will be seen more so in Spring and you'll enjoy a quicker return to positive growth and quicker renovation repair.

I ask that you embrace the change of season and enjoy the natural changes to the lawn. You can't force it to look Summer good but you can certainly make it look Autumn great - if that makes sense. Following this program will help the lawn survive Winter and come back better next Spring.
